What's New

The federal Heroes Earnings Assistance and Relief Tax (HEART) Act of 2008 permits the rollover of a federal military death gratuity payment or Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance proceeds into a Roth IRA or Coverdell education savings account (ESA), without regard to otherwise applicable contribution limits. California conforms to the extent of a rollover into a Roth IRA. However, although, for California purposes, a rollover into a Coverdell ESA would be treated as an "excess contribution," California law, unlike federal law, does not impose an excise tax on excess contributions. See IRS Pub. 3, Armed Forces' Tax Guide, for effective dates of the rollover provision.

Beginning in 2009: California conforms to the HEART Act provision that differential wage payments made on or after January 1, 2009 to members of the uniformed services on active duty for more than 30 days will be treated as compensation for purposes of a retirement plan and IRA contributions. Differential wages are all or part of the wages paid by an employer as if the member were performing service for the employer rather than being on active duty.

A General Information

Servicemembers domiciled outside of California, and their spouses, exclude the servicemember's military compensation from gross income when computing the tax rate on nonmilitary income.

Requirements for military servicemembers domiciled in California remain unchanged. Military servicemembers domiciled in California must include their military pay in total income. In addition, they must include their military pay in California source income when stationed in California. However, military pay is not California source income when a servicemember is permanently stationed outside of California.

If you mistakenly included military income on a previously filed California return, see the discussion of Amended Returns on page 2.

INTERNET ASSISTANCE

We've made significant changes to our website in an effort to help answer questions when completing your income tax return. Go to our website at ftb.ca.gov to:

- Get a Customer Service Number.
- e-file your tax return.
- Check your estimated tax payments.
- Check the status of your refund and make an account balance inquiry.
- Pay online with Web Pay (personal income tax, estimated tax, and bills). You choose the dates to pay.
- Complete and submit requests to make monthly installment payments.
- Download tax forms and publications.
- Access legal notices, rulings, regulations; also see FTB's analysis of pending legislation; and get current law/policy information by reading Tax News online.
- View internal procedure manuals to learn how we administer the law.

Individual Retirement Plan Contributions

California conforms to the federal Heroes Earned Retirement Opportunities Act that allows members of the Armed Forces serving in a combat zone to make contributions to their individual retirement plans even if the compensation on which such contribution is based is excluded from gross income.

Registered Domestic Partners (RDP)

For purposes of California income tax, references to a spouse, a husband, or a wife also refer to a California registered domestic partner (RDP), unless otherwise specified. When we use the initials RDP refer to both a California registered domestic "partner" and a California registered domestic "partnership," as applicable. For more information on RDPs, get FTB Pub. 737, Tax Information for Registered Domestic Partners.

California has conformed to the Military Family Tax Relief Act to allow the following:

Deduction for Overnight Travel Expenses of National Guard and Reserve Members

Reservists who stay overnight more than 100 miles away from home while in service (e.g., for a drill or meeting) may deduct unreimbursed travel expenses (transportation, meals, and lodging).

Exclusion of Gain on Sale of a Principal Residence

A taxpayer on qualified official extended duty in the U.S. Armed, Uniformed, or Foreign Services may suspend, for up to 10 years of such duty time, the running of the 5-year ownership-and-use period before the sale of a residence. This applies when the duty station is at least 50 miles from the residence - or while the person is residing under orders in government housing - for a period of more than 90 days or for an indefinite period.

Exclusion from Gross Income of Certain Federal Death Gratuity Payments

The amount of certain death gratuity payments excludable from gross income is $12,000.

Combat Zone Extensions Expanded to Contingency Operations

The various extensions granted to combat zone participants to file returns or pay taxes apply to those serving in Contingency Operations, as designated by the Secretary of Defense.

Amended Returns – If you are domiciled outside of California and included your military pay in income from all sources on a previously filed California tax return, you may file an amended return to claim a refund for taxable years not closed by the general statute of limitations. In addition, servicemembers who are American Indian tribal members treated as living on an Indian reservation who, on a previously filed California tax return, included military pay in income from all sources, can amend previously filed returns to claim a refund for taxable years not closed by the statute of limitations.

Generally, the statute of limitations is the later of:

- Four years from the original due date of the return.
- Four years from the date a timely return is filed.
- One year from the date of overpayment.

However, the general statute of limitations may be extended by service in a combat zone, a disaster loss, or assignment outside the United States.

If you file an amended return:

- ▶ Use Form 540X, Amended Individual Income Tax Return.
- ▶ Write "Military – HR 100" in red at the top of side one of the Form 540X, and include a daytime phone number in the space provided on side 2 of the form.

B Filing Requirements

Residents - File a California tax return if either your gross income (which consists of all income you received from all sources in the form of money, goods, property, and services, that is not exempt from tax) or your adjusted gross income (which consists of your federal adjusted gross income from all sources, reduced or increased by all California income adjustments) is more than the amounts shown on the chart below.

Nonresidents and Part-Year Residents - File a California tax return if you have any income from California sources and your gross income (which consists of all income you received from all sources in the form of money, goods, property, and services, that is not exempt from tax) from all sources or adjusted gross income (which consists of your federal adjusted gross income from all sources, reduced or increased by all California income adjustments) is more than the amounts shown on the chart below.

Even if you are not required to file a tax return, you should file a return in order to get a refund if California income tax was withheld from your pay or if you made estimated tax payments.

- ▶ Attach a copy of the military W-2 to the amended return.

If you are filing an amended return for a taxable year in which the general statute of limitations has closed, you should attach a statement explaining how you determined the extended statute of limitations. If the statute is extended because of military service in a combat zone or outside of the United States, you should attach copies of any documents that show when you served in a combat zone or overseas.

C Are You a Resident?

Active Duty Military – Generally, for tax purposes, you are considered a resident of the state from which you entered the military. The federal Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA) provides that:

- A person shall not be deemed to have lost a residence or domicile in any state solely by reason of being absent in compliance with military orders.
- A person shall not be deemed to have acquired a residence or domicile in any other state solely by reason of being there in compliance with military orders.
- Compensation for military service is not considered to be from sources within the state where a member is stationed if that state is not the member's domicile.

Domicile is defined as the one place:

- Where you maintain a true, fixed home and a permanent establishment.
- To which you intend to return.
- Which you intend to make your permanent home.

For tax purposes, a military servicemember is not considered a resident of California unless he or she is domiciled in California.

An individual domiciled in California when entering the military is considered to be a:

- Resident while stationed in California.
- Resident while stationed in California on permanent change of station (PCS) orders and temporary duty (TDY) assignments outside California, regardless of the duration.
- Nonresident while stationed outside California on PCS orders.

Military servicemembers domiciled outside of California are considered nonresidents for tax purposes even when stationed in California on PCS orders.

Spouses and Retired Military – For purposes of determining residency, retired military servicemembers and civilian spouses of military servicemembers are not covered by the SCRA. For tax purposes, their residency is determined under state laws. R&TC Section 17014 defines a resident as:

1. Every individual who is in this state for other than a temporary or transitory purpose.
2. Every individual domiciled in this state who is outside the state for a temporary or transitory purpose.

For more information, get FTB Pub. 1031, Guidelines for Determining Resident Status.

D Examples of Resident Status

Military Personnel With a California Domicile

Stationed in California – Military servicemembers whose domicile is California are residents of California and are subject to tax on all income, regardless of source, while stationed in California on permanent military orders.

Stationed Outside California – California military servicemembers who leave California under PCS orders become nonresidents of California for income tax purposes. All income received or earned prior to departure is subject to tax by California. After departure, only income from California sources is subject to tax by California. Nonresidents are generally not taxed by California on income from intangibles, such as dividends from stocks or interest from bonds or bank accounts.

California military servicemembers who leave California under a TDY assignment continue to be California residents even though absent from the state.

California military servicemembers on a ship whose home port is in California remain California residents while on sea duty, regardless of the ship's location.

Nonmilitary Spouse – If the spouse of the military servicemember remains in California, the nonmilitary spouse is considered a California resident. As a California resident, the spouse is subject to tax on all of his or her separate income, regardless of where it is earned. If the military servicemember retains a California domicile, the spouse is also subject to tax on his or her one-half community property share of all income, including the military servicemember's military pay.

The nonmilitary spouse of a military servicemember who is domiciled in California, but leaves the state with the military spouse on PCS orders outside California, becomes a nonresident upon leaving California. All income received or earned while a California resident is subject to tax. While a nonresident, only income from California sources is subject to tax.

Military Personnel Domiciled Outside of California – Military servicemembers who are domiciled outside California remain nonresidents, even though stationed in California, unless they establish a California domicile.

Military Couples – Each servicemember follows the above rules applicable to each of them as individual military servicemember.

E Joint or Separate Returns

Active duty military servicemembers and their spouses who file joint federal returns may file joint or separate returns for California.

When filing separate returns, a full-year resident spouse must file Form 540 or Form 540A. A nonresident or part-year resident spouse must file a Long Form 540NR. When filing a joint return and one spouse is a nonresident or part-year resident, you must file a Long or Short Form 540NR. You should figure your tax both jointly and separately to determine which filing status will result in the lower amount of tax.

A husband and wife who file a joint return may amend that return, within the general statute of limitations, after the original due date to change their filing status from married filing jointly to married filing separately if either spouse was:

- An active servicemember of the armed forces or any auxiliary branch, or
- A nonresident for the entire taxable year who had no income from a California source.

F Income Subject to California Tax

In general, California taxes all of the income you received while you were a resident of California and all of the income you received from California sources while you were a nonresident.

Under the federal SCRA, military servicemembers who are not domiciled in California are not taxed by California on pay received for military services performed in California, even though they were stationed in California for the entire year. However, all other income of nonresident military servicemembers from California sources is subject to California tax.

California Source Income – California source income includes income from all of the following:

- Nonmilitary services performed in California such as salaries or wages from a second job held by a nonresident military member.
- A trade or business located in California.
- Real or tangible personal property located in California.

Intangible Income – Income from intangible property (such as dividends from stocks or interest from bonds or bank accounts), regardless of the location of the payor, is sourced in the state of residence of the recipient. Therefore, intangible income is not taxable by California if received by a nonresident.

Military pay – Military pay is not included in California source income unless the military servicemember is domiciled in California and stationed in California. However, American Indian tribal servicemembers treated as living on an Indian reservation are not taxed on their military pay. For information on how American Indians treat other types of income, get FTB Pub. 674, Frequently Asked Questions About the Income Taxation of Native Americans.

Military Retirement Pay – Military retirement pay is taxable if it is received by a California resident. This applies to all military pensions received while the retiree is a California resident regardless of where the retiree was stationed while on active duty.

Example: Clifton Sams was a nonresident of California stationed outside California all of his active duty military career. He retires and moves to California. His military pension received after he moves to California is taxable by California.

Nonresidents of California are not taxed on military retirement pay or other qualified retirement income. For more information, get FTB Pub. 1005, Pension and Annuity Guidelines.

Division of Income – For tax purposes, income is allocated between spouses based upon whether the person receiving the income is domiciled in a community property or separate property state.

Community property states are: Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, Washington, and Wisconsin.

Puerto Rico, Guam, and Northern Mariana Islands are community property territories. All other states and U.S. territories are separate property states or territories.

The domicile of the spouse earning the income determines the division of income between the spouses when separate returns are filed. (See Section C, Are You a Resident?, for the definition of domicile.) Each spouse must follow the laws of his or her state of domicile to determine if the income is separate or community property. If the state of domicile is a community property state, when filing separate returns, each spouse must report half of the community property plus all separate income on each return. Get FTB Pub. 1051A, Guidelines for Married/RDP Filing Separate Returns, for more information regarding the division of income.

Income from joint accounts is assumed to belong equally to each party. Therefore, if you and your spouse file separate returns, each must report one-half of any taxable income from a joint account.

Example: Lt. Tucker is domiciled in New York, a separate property state, and Mrs. Tucker is domiciled in California, a community property state. Wages earned by Lt. Tucker are his separate income for tax purposes. Wages earned by Mrs. Tucker are community property for tax purposes and each spouse must report his or her community half if they are filing separate returns.

Nonresident Military Personnel with California Domicile

– When you compute your total AGI from all sources under California law on Schedule CA (540NR), California Adjustments — Nonresidents or Part-Year Residents, column A should include all income you reported on your federal return. Do not enter your military income or non-California source income in column B. Use column B and column C to make only the adjustments described in the instructions for Schedule CA (540NR). Be sure to read the instructions for Schedule CA (540NR), line 7.

To compute your part-year or nonresident California AGI, do not enter your military income or other non-California source income in Schedule CA (540NR), column E.

Short Form 540NR filers: Include all the income you reported on your federal return on Short Form 540NR, line 13. Enter on Short Form 540NR, line 14 any unemployment compensation or Paid Family Leave benefits you received. To figure your part-year or nonresident California AGI, do not include your military income or non-California source interest on Short Form 540NR, line 21.

Resident Nonmilitary Spouse – Resident nonmilitary spouses are taxed on their entire share of taxable income. If a military servicemember is domiciled in California, the resident nonmilitary spouse's community half of military pay is included in total California AGI regardless of the military servicemember's residency status.

Nonresident Military Personnel Domiciled Outside California, Military Pay Adjustment (MPA) – Military pay of a servicemember domiciled outside of California cannot be used to determine the amount of California tax you (or your spouse) must pay. Since the California return starts with federal adjusted gross income, which includes your military pay, you must make an adjustment on your California return.

If you file:

Long Form 540NR, enter your military pay on Schedule CA (540NR), Part II, line 7, column B. Write "MPA" to the left of column A or include it according to your software's instructions. Do not include your military pay in column E.

Short Form 540NR, enter your military pay on Short Form 540NR, line 14. Write "MPA" on the dotted line to the left of line 14 or include it according to your software's instructions. Do not include your military pay on line 21.

Example: Lt. Pope is a nonresident domiciled outside of California. Mrs. Pope is a resident of California. They should enter Lt. Pope's military pay on Schedule CA (540NR), line 7, column B. See the examples on page 7 and page 8 for the division of pay between spouses.

Modified Federal Adjusted Gross Income – Some deductions and credits are limited by federal adjusted gross income. Military pay of a servicemember domiciled outside of California cannot be used to reduce the amount of these deductions and credits. You must modify your federal adjusted gross income used to compute these limitations by subtracting your military pay from federal adjusted gross income. The deductions and credits subject to a federal adjusted gross income limitation are:

- Exemption Credit – if using modified federal AGI to compute the exemption credit phase out, write "MPA" to the left of the exemption credit amount on Long Form 540NR, line 25b (for taxable years 2001 and prior, line 23) or for the resident spouse filing a separate return, Form 540, line 21 or include it according to your software's instructions.
- Medical and Dental Expenses – limited to amounts in excess of 7.5% of federal AGI on federal Schedule A.
- Gifts to Charity – subject to a 20%, 30%, and 50% federal AGI limitation.
- Casualty and Theft Losses – total amount of all losses limited to amounts in excess of 10% of federal AGI on federal Schedule A.
- Job Expenses and Most Other Miscellaneous Expenses – limited to amounts in excess of 2% of federal AGI.
- Investment expenses included as a Miscellaneous Itemized Deduction on federal Schedule A, subject to the 2% of federal AGI limitation and reported on form FTB 3526, Investment Interest Expense Deduction.

- Passive Activity Losses – modified federal AGI limitation.
- Student Loan Interest Deduction – figured on the Student Loan Interest Deduction Worksheet.
- Child and Dependent Care Expenses Credit – See Section I.
- Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT).
- Underpayment of Estimated Tax.

G Tax Computation for Part-Year Residents or Nonresidents

The California tax on part-year residents or nonresidents is the California taxable income multiplied by a California tax rate. Nonresidents use either: (1) the Short Form 540NR; or (2) the Long Form 540NR and Schedule CA (540NR) to compute their tax.

California taxable income is the income subject to California tax as explained in Section F of this publication less certain deductions, such as a prorated portion of the standard deduction or itemized deductions.

The California tax rate is figured as follows:

- Step 1: Nonresidents or part-year residents determine their total taxable income as if they were California residents for the entire year and taxable on all their income. Military servicemembers domiciled outside of California, whether residing inside or outside of California, exclude their military compensation from this total taxable income amount. See Section F, Income Subject to California Tax. Nonresident servicemembers must refigure any federal AGI limitations by first subtracting military compensation from federal AGI. See Section F.
- Step 2: Compute the tax on the total taxable income from Step 1.
- Step 3: Divide the tax from Step 2 by the total taxable income from Step 1. This is the California tax rate. Multiply California taxable income by the California tax rate to determine your part-year or nonresident California tax.

$$\begin{array}{rclcl} \text{California taxable income} & \times & \frac{\text{Tax on total taxable income}}{\text{Total taxable income}} & = & \text{Prorated tax} \end{array}$$

H Nonrefundable Renter's Credit

California residents or part-year residents who paid rent for at least six months on their principal residence located in California and meet certain income requirements may claim a nonrefundable renter's credit against tax. Taxpayers who do not owe tax may not claim the credit.

I Child and Dependent Care Expenses Credit

California allows a refundable credit for child and dependent care expenses. You may be eligible to claim this credit if you paid someone to care for your child or other qualifying person so you (and your spouse, if married) could work or look for work. If you are a nonresident of California, your earned income must be from California sources. For the purposes of this credit, active duty pay is considered earned income from California sources, regardless of whether the servicemember is domiciled in California. Generally, if you are married, you must file a joint return. To qualify for the credit, both spouses must have California earned income. A full-time student or disabled person is deemed to have earned income. Your federal adjusted gross income must be $100,000 or less. For more information, get form FTB 3506, Child and Dependent Care Expenses Credit.

Example: Sgt. Miller is domiciled in California, but stationed all year in Virginia. Sgt. Miller's only source of earned income is his military pay. His wife, Ann, and their child remained in California. Ann worked in California and they incurred childcare expenses for care provided in California. Because Sgt. Miller's military pay while serving in Virginia is considered California earned income for purposes of computing the credit, they qualify for the credit, if they meet all other qualifications.

Military Personnel Domiciled Outside of California.

This is additional information you need to complete form FTB 3506.

- Military pay is considered California earned income for purposes of computing the credit – Under California law, your military pay for service in California is considered California earned income for purposes of computing the credit.
- Modified federal adjusted gross income – Use the federal adjusted gross income less your military pay to determine:
 - If your federal adjusted gross income is $100,000 or less.
 - The decimal amount to use on form FTB 3506, line 7 and line 9.

If using modified federal AGI to compute the Child and Dependent Care Expenses Credit, write "MPA" to the left of the credit amount on form FTB 3506, line 12 or include it according to your software's instructions.

J Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT)

If you claim certain types of deductions and income exclusions, you may be subject to California's AMT. Generally, if you filed federal Form 6251, Alternative Minimum Tax – Individuals, you must also file California's Schedule P (540), Alternative Minimum Tax and Credit Limitations — Residents, with Form 540; or Schedule P (540NR), Alternative Minimum Tax and Credit Limitations — Nonresidents or Part-Year Residents, with Long Form 540NR.

The MPA as described in Section F, if applicable, is used to reduce the federal AGI when computing several lines of Schedule P and when determining other limitations.

K Extensions – Combat Zone, Military Overseas, or Contingency Operations

Military servicemembers are allowed a filing extension of up to 180 days to file their California income tax returns and pay their tax, without interest or penalties, if:

- You were in a designated combat zone, contingency operation or in a qualified hazardous duty area (QHDA) anytime during the taxable year or filing period (January 1 to April 15), you are entitled to an extension to file and pay, without interest and penalties, of up to 180 days after leaving the combat zone or QHDA. In addition to the 180 day extension, you are entitled to an extension for the number of days you were in a combat zone or QHDA during the filing period, up to 106 days.
- You served outside the United States, but not in a designated combat zone, contingency operation or QHDA, you are entitled to an extension of time to file and pay without interest and penalties, of up to 180 days after returning from overseas.

IMPORTANT:

How do I indicate that I qualify for the extension to file and pay?

- If you were serving in the military overseas, write "MILITARY OVERSEAS" at the top of your tax return in RED INK.
- If you served in a designated combat zone or QHDA write "COMBAT ZONE" and the area you served in at the top of your tax return in RED INK.
- You must also write the date you were deployed overseas or entered a designated combat zone or QHDA and the date you returned from overseas or from a designated combat zone or QHDA.
- If both you and your spouse were in the military, write the information for both of you and indicate which is your information and which is your spouse's information.

The extensions apply to the servicemember and spouse regardless of whether a joint return or separate returns are filed.

L Examples of Income Reporting Requirements

The following chart includes examples that illustrate California's income reporting requirements. To use the chart, read down the first column to find your status Military servicemember (M) or Spouse (S), then read across to find the type of return to file and the type of income to report. Servicemembers domiciled outside of California should exclude their military compensation by claiming the MPA on Schedule CA (540NR), Part II, line 7, column B, and write "MPA" to the left of line 7, or include it according to your software's instructions. If you file Short Form 540NR, you should enter your military compensation on line 14, and write "MPA" on the dotted line to the left of line 14 or include it according to your software's instructions. These examples assume you were either a nonresident for the entire year or a resident for the entire year. Part-year residents get FTB Pub. 1031, Guidelines for Determining Resident Status, for more information.

Status	Examples of Income Reporting Requirements
M = Military servicemember, S = Spouse
California Domiciled Military
SINGLE TAXPAYERS
1.	M – Domiciled in California. Stationed in California all year.	File Form 540A or Form 540 2EZ and report all income, including military income; or file Form 540 and report all income, including military income, on Schedule CA (540), column A. Do not enter military income in column B or column C.
2.	M – Domiciled in California. Stationed outside California all year.	If you have California source income, file long or short Form 540NR and report all income, including military income, on Schedule CA (540NR), column A or Short Form 540NR, line 13. Do not enter military income on Schedule CA (540NR), column B or column C or on Short Form 540NR, line 14. Exclude your military compensation and other non-California source income from Schedule CA (540NR), column E or Short Form 540NR, line 21. If you have no California source income, you are not required to file a California return.
MARRIED TAXPAYERS
3.	M – Domiciled in California. Stationed in California all year. S – Domiciled in California. Resided in California all year.	If filing a joint return, file Form 540A or Form 540 2EZ and report all income, including military income, or file Form 540 and report all income, including military income, on Schedule CA (540), column A. Do not enter military income in column B or column C. If filing separate returns, each spouse must file Form 540 and report his or her one-half share of all community income, including military income, and his or her separate income, if any, on Schedule CA (540), column A. Do not enter military income in column B or column C.
4.	M – Domiciled in California. Stationed outside California all year. S – Domiciled in California. Resided in California all year.	If filing a joint return, file Long or Short Form 540NR. Report all income, including military income, on Schedule CA (540NR), column A or Short Form 540NR, line 13. Do not enter military income on Schedule CA (540NR), column B or column C or on Short Form 540NR, line 14. Report all California source income, all S's separate income, and S's community one-half share of all non-California source income on Schedule CA (540NR), column E or Short Form 540NR, line 21. This includes S's community one-half share of military pay and intangible income. If filing separate returns, M must file Long Form 540NR. Report all separate income and one-half share of all community income, including military income, on Schedule CA (540NR), column A. Do not enter military income on Schedule CA (540NR), column B or column C. Report all separate California source income and one-half share of community California source income on Schedule CA (540NR), column E. Do not enter military income, intangible income, or other non-California source income on Schedule CA (540NR), column E. If filing separate returns, S must file Form 540 and report all separate income and his or her one-half share of all community income, including military income, on Schedule CA (540), column A. Do not enter military income in column B or column C.

Illustration for example 8:

The following provides partial views of Schedule CA (540) and Schedule CA (540NR).

Lt. Pope is domiciled in Texas, a community property state, and Mrs. Pope is domiciled in California, a community property state. Lt. Pope was stationed in California for all of 2008 and received $32,500 in military wages and Mrs. Pope, who also lived in California, received $29,000 in wages. Lt. and Mrs. Pope also have a joint savings account from which they received $200 in interest income. Following are illustrations of how their income would be reported on Schedule CA (540 or 540NR) of their California return(s) (Refer to example 8 on page 8):

Filing a Joint Return (Long Form 540NR)

They would make the following entries on Schedule CA (540NR):

Part II Income Adjustment Schedule		A	B	C	D	E
		Federal Amounts	Subtractions	Additions	Total Amounts Using CA Law	CA Amounts
Section A – Income
7	Wages, salaries, tips, etc. See instructions before making an entry in column B or C.	7	$61,500	$32,500*	$29,000	$29,000*
8	Taxable interest income	8	200		200	100

Filing Separate Returns

Lt. Pope would file Long Form 540NR and would make the following entries on Schedule CA (540NR):

Part II Income Adjustment Schedule		A	B	C	D	E
		Federal Amounts	Subtractions	Additions	Total Amounts Using CA Law	CA Amounts
Section A – Income
7	Wages, salaries, tips, etc. See instructions before making an entry in column B or C.	7	$30,750	$16,250*	$14,500	$14,500
8	Taxable interest income	8	100		100

Mrs. Pope would file Form 540 and would make the following entries on Schedule CA (540):

Part I Income Adjustment Schedule		A	B	C
		Federal Amounts	Subtractions	Additions
Section A – Income
7	Wages, salaries, tips, etc. See instructions before making an entry in column B or C.	7	$30,750	$16,250*
8	Taxable interest income	8	100

Filing a Joint Return (Short Form 540NR)

13	Enter federal adjusted gross income from Form 1040, line 37; Form 1040A, line 21; Form 1040EZ, line 4; Form 1040NR, line 35; or Form 1040NR-EZ, line 10	13	$61,700**
14	Unemployment compensation and military pay adjustment. See instructions	14	32,500
17	Adjusted gross income from all sources. Subtract line 14 from line 13.	17	29,200

- * Mrs. Pope's $29,000 in wages.
-  One-half of Lt. Pope's military pay, $16,250 plus one-half of Mrs. Pope's wages, $14,500.
-  One-half of Mrs. Pope's wages.
- * R&TC Section 17140.5 military pay adjustment.

Additional Information

What if I am involved in an audit or have received correspondence?

If you are a military servicemember stationed in the United States follow the instructions in the correspondence you received. If you are stationed outside the United States, in most cases, we will defer any audit activity for up to 180 days following your return to the United States. Contact us or have your authorized representative contact us at the number shown on the correspondence we sent you, or see "General Toll-Free Phone Service" to get more information. You will be asked to provide all of the following information:

- Copy of assessment or letter concerning the audit.
- Name and social security number.
- Branch of service.
- Unit name and number.
- Dates you entered and left the United States.
- Mailing and/or permanent address.

What if I owe back taxes?

In most cases you will be able to defer payment of back taxes, without interest or penalties, for up to 180 days following your return to the United States.

If you received a notice from the Franchise Tax Board (FTB), call the number shown on the notice, or have your authorized representative contact us. You will be asked to provide all of the following information:

- Name and social security number.
- Branch of service.
- Unit name and number.
- Dates you entered and left the United States.
- Mailing and/or permanent address.

If you were a servicemember of the National Guard or a reservist called to full-time active duty, you may be able to defer payment of back taxes, without interest and penalties, from the date you were called to full-time active duty service until 180 days following the date you left service, if your ability to pay the tax is materially impaired by reason of the service.

In order to qualify for a deferral of back taxes, you must provide the FTB a certificate signed by an appropriately authorized officer of the military with all of the following information:

- Name.
- Dates you entered and left full time active duty.
- Place where the service occurred.
- Rank, branch, and unit.
- Monthly pay received at the date the certificate was issued.

How to Get California Tax Information

By Internet – You can download, view, and print California tax forms and publications from our website at ftb.ca.gov.
